ABOUT LPTP

This evening is a charity fund-raising event on behalf of LPTP, a 10-year old UK Trust set up to support pre-schools in Langa Township, Cape Town.

To date £225,000 has been spent on food, clothing, maintenance and new buildings, the equipment of offices and kitchens, security fencing, supplies and administration.

Funds are raised through donations and the profits of events, generally seven of these each year. The Trust is run by volunteers, who charge neither fees nor expenses so 97% of the available money goes to the pre-schools and the children.

THE AL NICHOLLS QUARTET

Al Nicholls

Leeds College of Music: Saxophonist with 20-year, wide experience of jazz clubs and festivals up and down the UK; wide range of jive, blues and swing and the star in many other bands.

Paul Eldridge

Guildhall School of Music: piano, working extensively on London jazz circuit with a wide variety of bands and singers.

Paul Moylan

Double Bass - Paul studied at the Royal Academy of Music and performs jazz, classical and world music. He has performed at many well known venues and also been the bass player in many West End theatre productions. He is also a composer.

Rod Brown
